Dear Anna Dunn:

Remember how Aunt's
Susan and Mary used to call you so? I was "Annie O," altho no one else ever called me so except in imitation of dear Aunt Mary.

Here at Moylan in my sisters lovely home I have to face the problem of being here without her. It is very lonely but very beautiful.
Sister Lucy was ever a delightful hostess.

Mrs. Kraft has transferred your inquiry to me: I can find no Chinese were answering your description one -

2 - nor any at all except the base of a lamp. It is blue green with a pattern of leafy vine, about a foot tall. Could that be the one? I know that Lucy has had this for a good many years. If this is the one, you shall have it, if not, perhaps there is something else you might enjoy having that was my sisters. There are several small bits of bricker brass and a few pictures. My brother and I have just finished making a complete inventory. Lucy disposed of nearly all of her possessions when she rented her house ten years ago but even the small amount left was considerable.

As you probably know, I am one of the two executors of my sisters will. She used to speak of you to

3. me and sometimes mention your letters with their vital interests.

On my way home from camp,
I stopped over-night in Rochester.
If I had had time I wanted very much to at least telephone you.
My cousin The Fishers gave me your address. I have not your husbands initials.

There is much to be done here.
Each day I find enough to fill a complete eight hours - and there is more and more. I want to carry out every wish that I know my sister had.

Someday I hope we may meet again. I feel as if we had a great many memories in common.
With very dear remembrance -

Ann Anthony Bacon.
