

See The Women Voters. 27/12

U. S. Com'r Stroms rendered his decision in the case of Miss ANTHONY and others, complained of for illegal voting, yesterday afternoon, holding that they had no right to register or vote, and that they must give bail to appear and answer to indictments, if bills be found by the Grand Jury. The parties are allowed until Monday to procure and put in bail, and are considering whether to adopt that course or sue out a writ of habeas corpus and have their case reviewed by Judge HALL, of the U. S. District Court. In case of an adverse decision by that Judge, the case may be carried before Judge WOODRUFF, and finally to the U. S. Supreme Court, where this great national question may find its ultimate solution.

In the meantime, Miss ANTHONY and her associates will need pecuniary aid from those who sympathize in their effort to obtain rights which they believe are granted by the amended Constitution. Some measures will probably be adopted, by which substantial aid may be obtained to further the objects and purposes of "these women."

The following are the names of the "illegal voters:"

Susan B. Anthony,	G. McLean,
Ellen T. Baker,	Rhoda DeGarmo,
Lottie B. Anthony,	Hannah Chatfield,
Sarah Truesdale,	Alice Cogswell,
Mary Anthony,	Mary L. Hubbard,
Nancy M. Chapman,	Margaret Leyden,
Susan M. Hough,	Mary Pulver,
	Hannah L. Mosher.