No Money For Safety

Q. Why isn't there a traffic light at the corner of Mt. Hope and Charles Streets? That intersection is dangerous, especially during rush hour.

—NAME WITHHELD

The Bureau of Traffic Engineering says the intersection will have a traffic light installed after the area is reconstructed. But the work will not be done before 1974 since funds earmarked for this project and many others in Rochester don't materialize after the deadline of the New York State Transportation Bond Issue.

Check Coming Up

Q. While sitting at the Rochester Post Office at East Avenue Mall, I caught my leg on a small cup sitting on the floor and ganged my leg above the ankle. My leg was bleeding profusely, and a girl in the post office helped me stop the bleeding and cleaned my wound. Shortly afterward I visited my doctor. He said the wound was a laceration and ordered tetanus shots. I wrote the post office and they phoned, but didn't get back to me as the other patrons insisted $2.12. Can you help?

—G. G. CAVENDISH, CANADA

The manager of the post office told us you hadn't asked for help and he didn't know the accident had happened. He asked you to return in with your claim — to sign a statement. You said you've been hurt too many times from the insurance company already.

A $70 Oversight

Q. We owned property in Batavia but moved to South Carolina last year. The time of the sale was unexpectedly prolonged. The purchaser paid $3,500 down and $3,500 on the closing date. At the closing, Mr. Tellier stated he had no cash, so we were to look for a more acceptable security. You said:

"The money can't be accepted and you must have the property back.

—L. R. B., R. I.

It appears you sold your property without a formal closing. Such sales are very risky. We suggest you hire a lawyer to review the situation and determine your rights.

Account Cancelled

Q. We closed our account under the "original notes" but we're being billed for $2,000. We've written several letters but haven't heard back. Yet bills keep coming. Can you stop them?

—M. S. & K., CALIFORNIA

You were warned that your account could be cancelled if your payments were not made on time. We suggest you pay the overdue amount and bring your account up to date.

And No More To Pay

Q. I placed a $25 order with Nature Food Centers, Buffalo, N.Y. Last January, I wrote them letters to no avail. In May, they said part of my order was on the way but it hasn't come, so I asked for my money back. Can you help?

—W. L. P., MADISON, WIS.

You should have received the order in May. We suggest you contact the store directly to inquire about the status of your order and request a refund if necessary.

School Districts Remap Budgets

Three Areas

School boards in three of our suburbs have proposed new education budgets, in which various changes have been proposed. Heads are beginning to spend more time discussing their own school districts' budgets.

The three districts are North Chili, East Rochester, and Fairport. North Chili has proposed a $5,000 increase in its budget, which is $1,060,000. This is the first time in two years that the district has made a budget increase.

The East Rochester board is considering a $10,000 increase in its budget, which is $1,150,000. This is the second time in two years that the district has made a budget increase.

The Fairport board is considering a $5,000 increase in its budget, which is $1,060,000. This is the first time in two years that the district has made a budget increase.

New Housing Or New Park?

By DAN LOVELY

Another park or more housing—this is the city's most difficult decision. It's the question facing the city council every year. Last year, it was decided to build a new park. This year, it is deciding whether to build a new park or to provide more housing. The city council is divided on the issue, with some members favoring a new park and others favoring more housing.

The city's population has been increasing in recent years, and the city council is concerned about providing enough housing for its residents. Last year, the city built a new park, but some members of the council believe that this was a mistake and that the money would have been better spent on housing.

The city council is also concerned about providing enough park space for its residents. Last year, the city built a new park, but some members of the council believe that this was a mistake and that the money would have been better spent on housing.

Youth 'Saves' Burning House

Quick thinking by a Rochester's son saved a downtown house from a fire last week.

Police reported finding three other burned buildings downtown last week, and it's believed that these buildings were burned for a reason.

A 17-year-old boy, who lives at 10th Avenue and Second Street, was spotted outside the burning building.

The boy told police that he had been "saving" the building.
